Why Should You Participate?

When the heat is on, do you FREEZE or ACT?

When the heat is on, do you FREEZE or ACT?

High-stakes professions, such as aviation, healthcare and defense demand clear thinking, rapid execution and traceable decision-making when life-and-death situations arise.

Today's business leaders face similar pressures: geopolitical crises, market upheavals, disruptive technologies. During these scenarios, executives' split-second decisions can define the very existence of their organizations.

This webinar, based on my book - Mayday! Mayday! Decision-making Under Duress - based on my book will introduce you to powerful frameworks from the aviation industry to help you make sound, reproducible decisions in the most turbulent scenarios.

Don't wait for your Mayday moment to test your decision-making skills.

As Steve Jobs said:

The ability to make tough decisions defines your leadership!

Register now and prepare to lead under pressure.
